Dear Parents,

This term the History Department will be holding its fourteenth meeting of the History Society. One of our aims is to enrich and enliven the curriculum we deliver in school. On this occasion we have decided to broaden our approach by inviting an 'old girl' back to present research recently undertaken. We hope that this will strengthen our ties with our ex-students and give the audience a golden opportunity to keep abreast of contemporary historical debate. We particularly believe that this experience will be invaluable for those students who wish to take History, and related subjects, at University – especially those considering Oxford or Cambridge. It will also be invaluable for those who wish to pursue their interest in this subject.

We therefore hope that you will support our meeting on:

Wednesday 10th March 2010
7.00pm-8.30pm
In the Hall

We are very fortunate to have Juliet Mushens as our speaker, a former student of CCHS. Juliet left our school in 2004 and spent a gap year working in heritage before taking up a place to read History at Queens' College, Cambridge. Whilst studying there her special interests were the history of gender and the history of racism, which she combined in her dissertation on the role of gender in the British National Front. Since graduation in 2008, Juliet has worked in publishing in London.'

On the 10th March, Juliet will speak on:

'The role of gender in the British National Front, 1967-1985:
sex, sexuality and sexual violence in the forerunner of the BNP'

The lecture will last for 45 minutes with a further 15 minutes for questions. If you are interested in attending this event could you please return the slip below, stating how many seats will be required, to the Finance Office by Friday 5th March 2010. Refreshments will be available from 6.30pm. There is no entrance charge for this event.

Yours sincerely

Dr Helena Graham (Head of History)
