Early Career Teacher Induction Policy

Formatted: Font: Book Antiqua, 16 pt

1. Introduction

Early career teaching is not only very demanding but also of considerable significance in the professional development of the new teacher. Statutory induction is the bridge between initial teacher training and a career in teaching. It combines a structured programme of development, support and professional dialogue, underpinned by the Early Career Framework, with monitoring and an assessment of performance against the Teachers' Standards.

Our programme follows the statutory framework to support early career teachers and provide them with the necessary training to ensure that they can demonstrate that their performance against the Teachers' Standards is satisfactory by the end of the period. Throughout this document an Early Career Teacher may be referred to as an ECT.

2. Purpose

Our school's induction process has been designed to make a significant contribution to both the professional and personal development of ECTs. The purposes of induction include:

Formatted: Font: Book Antiqua, 12 pt

- to provide programmes appropriate to the individual needs of the ECTs;
- to provide appropriate support through the assignment of an identified mentor;
- to provide ECTs with examples of good practice;
- to help ECTs form good relationships with all members of the school community and stakeholders;
- to help ECTs become aware of the school's role in the local community;
- to encourage reflection on their own and observed practice;
- to provide opportunities to recognise and celebrate good practice;
- to provide opportunities to identify areas for development;
- to help ECTs to develop an overview of a teacher's roles and responsibilities;
- to provide a foundation for longer-term professional development;
- to help ECTs perform satisfactorily against the Teachers' Standards.

The whole staff will be kept informed of the school induction policy and encouraged to participate, wherever possible, in its implementation and development.

This policy reflects a structured whole school approach to teacher induction and recognises that the quality and commitment of the people who supervise the induction is a crucial factor in its continued success.

3. Roles and Responsibilities

3.1 The Governing Body

The Governing Body will:

- ensure compliance with the Statutory guidance on induction for Early Career Teachers (England) which sets out the school's responsibility to provide the necessary monitoring, support and assessments for ECTs;
- be satisfied that the school has a suitable post and the capacity to fulfil all its obligations;
- ensure that a suitable Appropriate Body is appointed to provide independent quality assurance for the ECT programme;
- investigate concerns raised by an individual ECT as part of the institution's agreed grievance procedures;
- be kept aware and up to date about induction arrangements and the results of formal assessment meetings.

- appoint a suitably qualified induction tutor and induction mentor and ensure that they are provided with adequate time to fulfil their responsibilities;
- provide the ECT with a reduced timetable (10% in year one and 5% in year 2)
- ensure an appropriate statutory induction process is operated;
- ensure that the ECT receives an appropriate programme of training based on the Early Career framework;
- ensure that progress reviews are carried out each term and sign the formal assessment reports at the end of each year prior to submission;
- where unsatisfactory progress is identified, ensure timely notification, advice and support is provided;
- recommend to the Appropriate Body whether or not an ECT has performed satisfactorily against the Teachers' Standards for the completion of induction.
- ensure appropriate records are maintained and retained;
- keep the governing body aware and up to date about induction arrangements and the results of formal assessment meetings.

4. Entitlement

The Early Career Teacher should be proactive in their own career development. However, our induction programme ensures that new teachers are provided with support and monitoring to help them fulfil their professional duties and meet the requirements for satisfactory completion of induction. It builds on their knowledge, skills and achievements in relation to standards for the award for qualified teacher status (QTS).

Formatted: Font: Book Antiqua, 12 pt

The key aspects of the induction programme for ECTs are as follows:

- an embedded programme of training that enables the ECT to understand and apply knowledge and skills in each of the Early Careers Framework evidence and practice statements;
- termly structured reviews and annual formal assessments;
- regular one to one mentoring sessions from a designated mentor who is expected to hold QTS and has the time and ability to carry out the role effectively. Mentor sessions are normally expected to be timetabled during teaching hours and exceptionally otherwise within directed time;
- support and guidance from a designated induction tutor who is expected to hold QTS and has the time and ability to carry out the role effectively;
- observation of the ECT's teaching with written feedback provided;
- professional reviews of progress conducted by the induction tutor to set and review development targets against the Teachers' Standards;
- ECT's observation of experienced teachers; and,
- A reduced timetable of no more than 90% of the normal timetable in year one and 95% in year 2, to enable participation in the school's induction programme. This is in addition to the 10% reduction in timetable for PPA time.

- Scheduled observations at regular intervals. Observers will hold QTS.
- Meetings, planned in advance, between the ECT and observer to review observed teaching. Feedback will be constructive and a brief written record made on each occasion, which will include any development needs identified.
- Review and revision of objectives throughout the induction period. These will relate to the Teachers' Standards and the ECT's personal development needs.
- Formal assessment at the end of the first year of the induction period.

- At the end of the induction period, make a formal recommendation to the appropriate body.
- Reports after each review and formal assessment. Copies of these reports, and the evidence used to inform them, will be supplied to the ECT and the appropriate body.
- Informing the appropriate body, and putting support in place, if the ECT is not making satisfactory progress.
- Participation in the appropriate body's quality assurance procedures.
- Notification to the appropriate body if the ECT's absences total 30 days or more (except in the case of maternity or parental leave).
- Ensuring the ECT knows how to raise concerns about their induction programme or their progress, both within your school and elsewhere.

In exceptional circumstances where an interim assessment cannot be completed before the ECT leaves post the induction tutor or headteacher will still complete an interim assessment report and provide a copy to the ECT and appropriate body.

6. Assessment & Quality Assurance

The assessment of ECTs will be rigorous but also objective:

- The criteria used for formal assessments will be shared and agreed in advance.
- Formative assessment (e.g. lesson observation, target setting, pupil progress) and summative assessment (termly induction reports) will be used.
- Responsibility for assessment will involve all teachers who have a part in the ECT's development in order to gain a reliable overall view.
- Opportunities will be created for ECTs to gain experience and expertise in self-evaluation.
- The induction tutor will ensure that assessment procedures are consistently applied.
- At the end of the induction period, make a formal recommendation to the appropriate body.
- Copies of any records will be passed to the ECT concerned.
- Reviews and formal assessment reports will give details of:
  - areas of strength
  - areas requiring development
  - evidence used to inform judgement,
  - targets for coming term (i.e. 'smart' targets)
  - support to be provided by the school

All of the above will be clearly referenced to the Teachers' Standards.

7. At risk procedures

If any ECT encounters difficulties in their performance against the Teachers' Standards, the following procedures will be put into place.

- Concerns will be raised promptly with the ECT and the appropriate body notified. Concerns will be recorded in review and assessment reports.
- Monitoring and support measures will be put in place immediately to assist the ECT in getting back on track.

- Recorded diagnosis of the exact nature of the problem and advice given on how to redress the problem.
- Agreed, attainable targets for action with specific and practical steps outlined for securing an improvement in practice.
- Experienced colleagues will model aspects of good practice so that the ECT can focus attention on particular areas of teaching through observation.

Where an ECT has continuing difficulties, the consequences of failure to complete the induction period satisfactorily will be discussed fully with them as follows:

- the identified weaknesses;
- the agreed objectives previously set in relation to the requirements for the satisfactory completion of induction, updating these as necessary;
- details of additional monitoring and support put in place;
- the evidence used to inform the judgement; and
- details of the improvement plan for the next assessment period.

Where necessary, the Head/ Appropriate Body's adviser will support the induction tutor and ECT in observations and planning an appropriate programme to ensure satisfactory completion of the ECT year and that all steps have been taken to improve the situation.

In a few particularly serious cases, capability procedures may be instigated alongside the formal induction process.

8. Addressing ECT Concerns

If an ECT has any concerns about the induction, mentoring and support programme, these should be raised within the school in the first instance. Where the school does not resolve them the ECT should raise concerns with the named Appropriate Body contact
